DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 9 and 10 are objected to because of the following informalities: in claim 9, "600<sup>0</sup>C" should be "600°C"; claim 10, "2100C" should be "210°". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
3. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
4. The term "cooling the reaction mixture rapidly to room temperature" in claims 1 and 10 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "rapidly" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.
5. Claim 7 recites the limitation "the heating of the mixture at autogenous conditions is carried out." This limitation renders the claim indefinite because it suggests that the heating step has already been described as autogenous which it has not been. It is suggested that applicant rewrite the claims as "the heating of the mixture is carried out at autogenous conditions, wherein the temperature is in the range of 190-210 degrees C for a period of about 15 days.”

6. Claim 10 recites the limitation “the X-ray diffraction pattern in Table 1 below.”

This limitation is confusing because there is no Table below. It is suggested that applicant delete “below.”

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Venkatathri et al.

Venkatathri et al. (“Synthesis of SAPO-35 in non-aqueous gels,” J. Chem. Soc., Faraday Trans., 1997, 93(18), pages 3411-3415) discloses a procedure for producing SAPO-35. The process comprises mixing aluminum isopropoxide with ethylene glycol, a hexamethyleneimine, phosphoric acid, and fumed silica to form a mixed gel (page 3411). The gel is charged to an autoclave and heated for 15 days at 473 K (page 3411). The crystallized material is removed from the autoclave, washed with deionized water and dried at 383 K for 24 hours (page 3411). The dried material is calcined at 873 K for 12 hours in air (page 3411).

Art Unit: 1725

With respect to the cooling step instantly claimed, it is the position of the examiner that removing the material from the autoclave and washing it as described would inherently meet the cooling step. When the examiner has reason to believe that the functional language asserted to be critical for establishing novelty in claimed subject matter may in fact be an inherent characteristic of the prior art, the burden of proof is shifted to Applicants to prove that the subject matter shown in the prior art does not possess the characteristics relied upon. In re Fitzgerald et al. 205 USPQ 594.

As each and every element of the claimed invention is taught in the prior art as recited above, the claims are anticipated by Venkatathri et al..

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
